WEEK 5 GROUP GUIDE

SERIES OVERVIEW

The Spirit helps us see sin for what it is, but we often live by our feelings instead. Seeing sin for what it is, we don't begrudgingly curb our sinful desires but gladly strive for self-control like a sinking swimmer reaches for a life preserver.

BIG IDEA

Noting the relational shift that occurs in our lives when we're led by the Spirit, Paul, in Galatians 6, clarifies what it means to be filled with "goodness." The Spirit calls and empowers us to never give up on goodness and to give it away freely.

ICEBREAKER/CHECK-IN QUESTION

- What's a small act of kindness or goodness someone did for you recently that made your day?

DISCUSS

- Share one or two thoughts that stuck out to you from this week's message.
- Reflect on a moment when you received unexpected kindness. How did it inspire you to show kindness to others?
- How can we cultivate a daily habit of kindness and goodness in our interactions with others?
- Discuss a time when you struggled to receive kindness from others. How did it impact your view of kindness and goodness?
- Share practical ways to put kindness and goodness into action in our families, workplaces, and communities.
- How do you think prioritizing kindness and goodness in your life can lead to a deeper relationship with God and others?
- In what ways can we demonstrate kindness and goodness through our time, talents, and treasures in our daily lives?

- ROMANS 2:4

DISCUSS

- In Galatians 2:25, Paul encourages us to "keep in step with the Spirit." How do you stay connected to God throughout your day to reflect kindness and goodness?
- Romans 2:4 highlights God's kindness leading us to turn from sin. How can reflecting on God's kindness influence the way we treat others?

PRAY

Dear God, help us grow in kindness and goodness, mirroring Your love in our daily actions. Guide us to be beacons of light and warmth in a world that needs kindness. Amen.
